This Addendum forms a part of the contract documents and modifies the original RFP documents as noted below:

- 1) The number of points awarded for Local Preference is shown as “ten (5) points” and I wanted to clarify if it is 10 points or just 5.

Response: Local Preference is five (5) points.

- 2) If a joint proposal is submitted, but only the sub-contractor meets the qualifications for Local Preference, are the points awarded for Local Preference pro-rated based on the % of contract the sub-contractor is responsible for? For example: If a firm brings on a sub-contractor that will be awarded 20% of the contract, but only the subcontractor meets the Local Preference guidelines, are full points awarded, or only 20% of the available points?

Response: A Subcontractor (for the Prime Contractor) would not qualify for the local preference points. However, local Preference points would apply if there is a certified joint venture per Section 6-11 of the RFP document.
