Mission

The mission of the Marshal’s Department is to preserve the peace, protect lives and to serve the public by enforcing orders, writs and precepts of the State and Magistrate Courts of Fulton County, and other courts of competent judicial authority, in a responsible, efficient and cost effective manner.

Core Values

The core values of the Marshal’s Department, which are representative of the gold 8-point badge we wear, are courage, honesty, justice, character, knowledge, loyalty, service, and integrity.

Message from the Marshal

Troops,

The year 2013 marked our centennial anniversary protecting and serving the citizens of Fulton County. Although one hundred years have passed since inception, our duty to carry out the precepts of the courts as well as enforcing the laws of the State will continue to be mission forefront. Now that we are entering a new century of service, I remain confident that we will achieve our goals and objectives as we have done so in the previous one hundred years with compassion, honor and professionalism.

As a final but very important point, I would be remiss not to THANK YOU all for making me so proud to serve as your Marshal. Your commitment to the mission, the dedication to community service, and your fortitude during our organizational realignment is a testament to your allegiance to this agency.

May God continue to bless us all and once more…THANK YOU!

Antonio R. Johnson

The Centennial History of the Fulton County Marshal’s Department

On August 20, 1913, the act that created the Fulton County Marshal’s Department was signed into law. Section 24 of the act provides:

Be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That there shall be a Marshal of said court and for Deputy Marshals; provided, however, that the Commissioners of Roads and Revenues of Fulton County may, in their discretion, authorize the appointment of additional deputy Marshals. The Marshal and Deputy Marshals of said court shall be selected from the qualified electors and residents of the City of Atlanta and shall be appointed by the Judges of said court, and in event said Judges are evenly divided as to any appointment, the nominee of the Chief Judge shall be selected. Their term of office shall be for years. The Marshal of said court shall be paid eighteen hundred dollars per annum, payable one hundred and fifty dollars per month. Each Deputy Marshal shall be paid fifteen hundred dollars per year, payable one hundred and twenty-five dollars per month...The duties, powers, rights, authority and liabilities of said Marshal, and each of said deputies shall be the same as those prescribed for Constables elected or appointed, and serving in Justice Courts of this State, and in addition the same as those prescribed by law for the Sheriffs of the several counties so far as the same are consistent with the terms of this Act, and such other duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Judges of said court in the rules of court.

The act not only established the Marshal’s department, it reformed a significant portion of Georgia’s judiciary. It abolished the justice of the peace courts in Atlanta.

In the place of the city’s justices of the peace, the act established the Municipal Court of Atlanta. Because the territory of the city was split between Fulton and DeKalb counties, the municipal court had a Fulton section and a DeKalb Section.

The Fulton Section was re-designated as the Civil Court of Fulton County and ultimately became part of the State Court of Fulton County. The Fulton Section of the Municipal Court of Atlanta had a Marshal’s Office at its inception. The office continues as the Fulton County Marshal’s Department.

The Fulton County Marshal’s Department remains true to the standards of public integrity that motivated its creation.

Odyssey Implementation

As a part of a Fulton County initiative to consolidate disparate criminal justice systems, the Unified Justice Case Management (UJCMS) Project was started. On January 27, 2011 the Fulton County Marshal's Department attended the Unified Justice Case Management System Core Project Team Kickoff. The Marshal's Department Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) were asked to commit 70-100 percent of their time to the project. Marshal's Department Information Technology Coordinators assisted the Fulton County Department of Information Technology (DOIT) and other departments in completing the following tasks:

- Pre-Implementation Planning, Business Process Analysis and Fit Review,
- System Configuration, Enhancements, Data Conversion, Forms and Reports,

On July 8, 2013 the Criminal Phase of the UJCMS Project was completed with the Criminal Phase Go-Live. The Civil Phase was completed November 12, 2013 with the Civil Phase Go-Live.

Odyssey Statistics

- Conversion
  - 18 issues remain out of 338
  - Over 11,000 checks performed
  - Approximately 5 million case type records

- End User Testing
  - 8k hours of Tyler internal testing
  - ~60 users, 12 departments
  - Latest round - 4 weeks of testing

- Training
  - 2 weeks of TTT
  - 6 weeks of User Training

Training

In the field of law enforcement, training is a never ending process. Because of the ever changing environment in criminal and civil law, proper training is the key to effective responses to our daily situations. The very nature of being a Deputy Marshal of the Fulton County Marshal's Department requires us to interact with the general public, and because our department has county wide jurisdiction, we can be called upon to react to any crisis that might arise.

Effective training and education is the key to being the best Deputy Marshals that we can be. The Fulton County Marshal’s Department prides itself on providing the citizens of Fulton County with highly qualified and professional Deputy Marshals. In 2013, the Fulton County Marshal's Department completed a total of 7,472 hours of various training courses. A few of the completed trainings are listed below.

Youth & College Programs

Junior Deputy Program

The Junior Deputy Program offers selected youth of Fulton County an introduction to the numerous functions of the Fulton County Marshal’s Department. The 1 week long program features tours, introductions to key staff members, lessons, lectures, exercises and discussions (and calisthenics, too!) set to building superior character, enhancing a mutual understanding of service between law enforcement and the youth participants’ communities, developing & identifying leadership skills, promoting good citizenship, enhancing personal and mental fitness and to peak interest of youth participants in law enforcement careers. Corporal A. Moore (not pictured) is the Junior Deputy Program leader. Marshal Johnson and Deputy B. Mason are pictured with our 2013 class below.

College Internship Program

The College Internship Program is designed to provide college students with an opportunity to learn about the Georgia Criminal Justice System through observation of courtroom proceedings, field operations and administrative functions. When students complete the Internship Program it is our desire that they are able to satisfy their college internship requirements, gain a better understanding of the criminal justice system and possibly interest them in law enforcement careers.

Edwin Morales
Georgia State University

Edwin plans to work for a local law enforcement agency. With essential experience and knowledge gained from a local law enforcement agency, he plans to pursue his goal of becoming a FBI agent.

Community Outreach

The Fulton County Marshal's Department has participated in several events and fundraisers throughout the year to give back to our community. Some of the events that we have participated in include:

- Provided security for the Martin Luther King, Jr celebration events
- Raised over $1000 through the sale of Otis Spunkmeyer Cookies and Honey Baked Ham boxed lunches in effort to provide for needy families during the holidays.
- Partnered with Academy 1 to provide safety tips to children ages 3 to 6
- Participated in C.O.P.S. for Kids, which provides children with a Wal-Mart gift card that they use to shop for the holidays. Each child is paired with officers, deputies, and volunteers to assist them with shopping.

The Marshal's Department prides itself on helping the community in which we work and we will continue to give back.
On April 2, 2013, a call was dispatched on Marshal Radio notifying units that there was a robbery in progress at the Bank of America on Old National Hwy. A few moments later, dispatched advised of the description of the vehicle, location of the vehicle, and a description of the suspects clothing. As a result of the collaborative efforts of the Fulton County Marshal’s Department, the Fulton County Police Department, and the Fulton County Emergency Communications Department, the subject was apprehended, and all evidence and property was turned over to the Fulton County Police Department.
